The screenshot shows a 'Your Profile' form with the following fields and options:

- Name: Paula Patel
- Change: Includes a red bear icon, a 'Change' button, and a 'Remove' button.
- Email: allen-costumes@pursuedbybear.co.uk
- Role: Radio buttons for 'Account Admin' (selected) and 'Account User'.
- Buttons: 'Cancel' and 'Update' at the bottom right.

Callouts point to the following elements:

- 'Your name' points to the Name input field.
- 'Your email address' points to the Email input field.
- 'Your role' points to the Role radio button options.

If your role have the relevant permission then you can update your profile details.

It is useful to update your profile with an avatar so that people know who you are when you communicate with them.

When you make updates to your email address you will be sent a new link to verify it.

Changing your role can severely limit the functions you can access on the platform. Use with caution. For more information, see this article.
